COMMENCEMENT 2024

Monday, May 20, 2024

Message from the President

May 20, 2024

Dear Pace graduates, parents, families, and friends:

You did it.

To the students in the Pace University Class of 2024: You worked hard, you set goals, and you achieved them. You took advantage of the opportunities offered to you, and you accomplished what you set out to do. We couldn't be prouder of you, and we couldn't be happier for you.

To the parents, families, and friends supporting these graduates: You're part of this success, too. You helped your students do the work, helped them be their best, and helped them get to this ceremony. On the graduates' behalf, I want to thank you for everything you've done and will continue to do to support them.

Students, you have your whole lives and so many opportunities ahead of you. You have grown and explored here at Pace, but your worlds are about to get immeasurably larger. You'll have careers, families, and opportunities that you never imagined. As you grow and change, as the world changes, the skills you learned here will always stay with you: how to think, how to learn, and how to be positive contributors to your community. I know the perseverance and resourcefulness that brought you to today have demonstrated that you will accomplish anything you set your mind to.

As we send you into the world, I want you to remember Pace and the people you encountered here. This place and this community have made you who you are. You are part of the Pace family, and you'll always be welcome here. Career Services will always be available to you. The Pace University Alumni Association will keep you connected. We will be here to support you as you move through your lives, and I hope you will help us create opportunities for the next generation of Pace students.

I can't wait to see what you'll do next.

Sincerely,

Marvin Krislov
President

LaChanze

In a nearly four-decade career as an actor, singer, dancer, and theatrical producer, the Broadway legend LaChanze has leveraged her hard work, commitment, and innate talents to bring a series of strong and complex female characters to our stages and screens.

Born in Florida and raised in Connecticut, LaChanze studied theater and dance in college. She made her Broadway debut in January 1986 at 24 years old. Only five years later, she was nominated for her first Tony Award for originating the key role of Ti Moune in Once On This Island.

She always kept working. On Broadway, she starred in Ragtime, If/Then, and Summer: The Donna Summer Musical, among many other roles. In 2006, she won the Tony for her starring performance as Celie in The Color Purple. She's been in movies ranging from The Help to Disney's Hercules, and on TV shows including The Black List, East New York, and—like every working New York actor—Law & Order: SVU.

Then, LaChanze became a Broadway producer, and she found quick success. At last year's Tony Awards, she became the first female producer ever to win two Tonys in one night: Best Revival of a Play for the Pulitzer Prize-winning Topdog/Underdog and Best Musical for Kimberly Akimbo. This season, she has three more projects on Broadway, including a musical based on the beloved novel The Outsiders, opening this spring. Next season, she'll make her New York directing debut, with Wine in the Wilderness at the Classic Stage Company.

Amid all her professional commitments she is also the president of Black Theatre United, a community of creatives dedicated to awareness, accountability, and advocacy. She's a proud mother, too, of Zaya LaChanze and Celia Rose—who started her own Broadway career while a performing arts student at Pace.

For her remarkable talent and drive, for proving that an artist can also succeed as a businesswoman and an advocate, and for standing as an inspiration to all our students—especially those in our Sands College of Performing Arts—Pace University is proud to confer upon LaChanze Sapp-Gooding the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereunto.

Doctor of Humane Letters

Paul Levitz

Paul Levitz was a Brooklyn high school student when he revived The Comic Reader—the first mass-circulation fanzine devoted to comics news—as its editor and publisher. That was in 1971, and it set in motion a half-century career in comics that took Levitz to the highest levels of that industry.

When he stepped down as president and publisher of DC Comics in 2009, Levitz was the leader who'd helped grow the company into a modern cultural force, overseeing successful film and TV efforts and guiding the graphic novel to become a respected literary form. He'd changed the business.

That's when he started his life as an educator, joining the faculty of the master's in publishing program at Pace. He teaches classes on comics, graphic novels, and the future of publishing to students in that program. He also brings his expertise to Pace undergraduates, teaching Dyson students how to write comics and graphic novels and Lubin students about the management of a creative business.

His students and academic colleagues are inspired by him. He is a “dynamic and fascinating professor,” they say. They note that he is a committed mentor who is happy to tap his vast network of connections to help students and graduates develop their careers. One colleague put it simply: “Paul helps our students understand and realize their full potential as innovative thinkers.”

Levitz has won innumerable honors and accolades for his work. His book 75 Years of DC Comics was celebrated around the world. He's won Comic-Con International's Inkpot Award, the Comics Industry Appreciation Award, the Bob Clampett Humanitarian Award, and the Hero Initiative's Dick Giordano Humanitarian Award. In 2019, he was inducted into the Will Eisner Hall of Fame, the comics field's most prestigious honor.

But despite attending NYU for several years, Levitz never had the chance to earn his college degree.

Today, for his transformative accomplishments in the comic book industry, for the dedication and excellence he has modeled to generations of writers, artists, and those aspiring to work in creative fields, and for his commitment to and advocacy for his students, Pace University is proud to confer upon Paul Levitz the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereunto.

Honorable Andrea Stewart-Cousins '86, '08

The Honorable Andrea Stewart-Cousins is one of the most powerful people in New York State government. And she's had to fight for everything she's achieved.

She grew up in public housing in New York City. At 19, she was a single mother working in customer service for the phone company. By 21, she'd started to get involved with public issues, protesting changes to daycare subsidies that would have made it impossible to keep up her job—with an annual salary of just $7,000—and care for her son.

Today, she's the president pro tempore and majority leader of the New York State Senate. "When I fight for things," she has said, "it's because I know those things matter."

In the early 1980s, married with three children and working, she enrolled at Pace University to study journalism. A professor sent her to cover 1984's election night at Geraldine Ferraro's headquarters. In watching the first female major-party vice-presidential candidate, the politics bug bit.

Stewart-Cousins earned her degree in 1986 and a few years later was named director of community affairs in Yonkers, a position created to help heal and unite the city following a desegregation order. In 1995, she won a spot on the Westchester Board of Legislators. In 2000, she pulled off a legislative triumph, launching the Westchester County Human Rights Commission. Unlike the overburdened, pre-existing New York State commission, this one offered anti-discriminations for LGBT people, too.

In 2004, she ran a long-shot campaign for State Senate against a popular incumbent. After recounts and allegations of irregularities, she lost by a mere 18 votes. In 2006, she ran again—and won. Voting rights became one of her signature issues, along with reproductive rights, education, and tenant rights. As Senator Stewart-Cousins, she came back to Pace for a Master of Public Administration.

Then, in 2012, seeking a unifying figure to bring together their divided caucus, State Senate Democrats chose her as their leader. After the Democrats won control of the chamber in 2018, she was elected President Pro Tempore and Majority Leader Stewart-Cousins, the first woman and first Black woman to lead a Legislative Chamber in New York State history.

For her tireless dedication to public service, for her transformative impact on New York State, and for modeling all that a Pace graduate can accomplish, Pace University is proud to confer upon the Honorable Andrea Stewart-Cousins, '86, '08, the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereunto.

Doctor of Laws

Honorable Rowan D. Wilson

Chief Judge of the New York State Court of Appeals

The Honorable Rowan D. Wilson has had a distinguished career as a lawyer and a jurist. In his current role as New York's highest-ranking judge, he is one of the nation's leading voices advancing equity, justice, and the rule of law.

Judge Wilson received his AB degree from Harvard College, and his JD degree from Harvard Law School. He was admitted to the bar of the State of California in 1985, and the bar of the State of New York in 1987.

From 1984 to 1986, Judge Wilson served as a law clerk to the Honorable James R. Browning, chief judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, based in San Francisco, California. In 1986, he joined the firm of Cravath, Swaine & Moore in New York City as an associate. He was elected to partnership there in 1991, a position which he continued until February 2017. His practice encompassed a wide variety of matters, including antitrust, intellectual property, securities and common-law fraud, contract, labor and employment, civil rights and first amendment issues. Ultimately, he rose to become the firm's first partner of color.

On January 15, 2017, Governor Andrew M. Cuomo nominated Judge Wilson to serve as an Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, and the New York State Senate confirmed his nomination on February 6, 2017. On April 10, 2023, Governor Kathy Hochul nominated Judge Wilson to serve as Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals and the State of New York, breaking barriers as the first person of color in this role. The New York State Senate confirmed his nomination on April 18, 2023.

Judge Wilson has demonstrated a commitment to the community over the course of his career, serving on the boards of several charitable and not-for-profit organizations, and handling numerous pro bono matters during his years in practice.

For his dedication to the law, for his commitment to public service, and in recognition of his trailblazing contributions to the legal profession during his distinguished career, Pace University is honored to confer upon Judge Rowan D. Wilson the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereunto.

Opportunitas in Action Award

The Opportunitas in Action Award, bestowed by the president of Pace University, recognizes a leader who has made innovative, positive contributions to the community in the spirit of Pace's motto, Opportunitas.

Angella and Danroy Henry

Parents of former Pace student Danroy "DJ" Henry Jr. and founders of the DJ Henry Dream Fund

Danroy "Dan" T. Henry is the co-founder of the DJ Henry Dream Fund. He was previously the Chief Culture Officer at Bright Horizons Family Solutions, Inc. and Chief Human Resources Officer of Bright Horizons Family Solutions LLC (a subsidiary of Bright Horizons Family Solutions, Inc.). Recognized as a values-driven business professional, he is a contributing author to Inside the Minds and has also been a featured speaker at the NEHRA annual convention, SHRM, the Conference Board, and NAAHR. Dan is a graduate of Cornell University's College of Industrial and Labor Relations. In his past career, Dan held the position of Principal at Staples, Inc.; Executive Vice President of FleetBoston Financial Corp.; Principal at Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of NY, Inc.; Principal at Reebok International Ltd.; and Chairman at Northeast Human Resources Association.

Angella Henry is the co-founder of the DJ Henry Dream Fund and the Executive Director for over 10 years. She earned her bachelor's degree in communication disorders and special education from Bridgewater State University. Angella worked in the school system as a special education teacher and SLPA for several years. She now devotes her time to the DJ Henry Dream Fund, ensuring thousands of children have the opportunities DJ had. She serves on several boards.

Together, they exemplify the ideals of Opportunitas, and we are very pleased to present them with Pace University's 2024 Opportunitas in Action Award.

Juan Shan, PhD

Associate Professor, Computer Science

Seidenberg School of Computer Science and Information Systems

Professor Shan is an Associate Professor in the Department of Computer Science. She received her PhD in Computer Science from Utah State University in 2011. Her research interests include medical image analysis, machine learning, information fusion, and computer-aided diagnosis.

With research supported by federal grants from the National Science Foundation (NSF) and the National Security Agency (NSA), Professor Shan has more than 50 peer-reviewed papers published, many co-authored with her students at Pace University. One of her ongoing projects is extracting image features from knee MRI sequences and applying machine learning models to analyze these features to predict knee osteoarthritis (OA). As a result, people with a higher risk of developing OA in the future can take preventive measures to slow down progression with this model. Professor Shan also develops deep learning models to automatically measure joint space width (JSW)—the width of the gap between bones in hand joints, which is an important biomarker for hand OA diagnosis and longitudinal tracking of the disease. Professor Shan is interested in developing robust and reliable machine learning models that can solve medical domain problems—not only to facilitate doctors' daily clinical work, but also to advance the understanding of disease pathology and provide suggestions for proactive treatment.

Shamita Dutta Gupta, PhD

Professor, Mathematics

Dyson College of Arts and Sciences

Professor Shamita Dutta Gupta is a Professor and Associate Chair of the Department of Mathematics. She received her PhD from Brown University in 1995. Her main areas of research are number theory, actuarial science, financial mathematics, and mathematics education. She has been awarded internal and external grants in addition to her 30 publications.

Professor Gupta is passionate about curriculum development. She has created Learning Communities in partnership with the English Department titled Crossing the Divide: The Art of Mathematical Thinking and the Science of Rhetoric and with Women's Studies titled Culture and Math: The Intersectionality of Gender, Race and Class. In her service-learning calculus course, Teach and Learn Calculus, she partners with neighborhood high schools where her students tutor high school students in algebra and pre-calculus. Recently, she launched an Embedded Mini Boot Camps to identify and address in need of immediate remediation in her calculus sequence courses. She has created special online study modules which provide custom made remediation, promoting student success. She has been recognized for her commitment to her students with an Excellence in Teaching Award at Florida International University in 2000 and the MAA NY Metro Section Award for Distinguished Teaching in 2023.

Michele Lucille Lopez, DHEd

*Assistant Professor, Nursing
College of Health Professions*

Professor Michelle Lucille Lopez is an alumnus of Pace University, having graduated from the nursing program in 1995. She joined Pace University in 2021 and teaches in the nursing program and has served as a nursing educator for more than 20 years. Her research is focused on understanding and promoting student success and improved patient outcomes. Professor Lopez provides a thoughtful and compassionate learning environment for her students. She uses a variety of teaching formats to reach and motivate students. She strives to ensure the teaching principles employed provide a safe arena for students to learn and grow.

Professor Lopez remains committed to the education and development of nurses and healthcare professionals. She serves as mentor for nursing students in the undergraduate nursing program and serves as an Honors College thesis advisor. As an active member of Pace, she demonstrates her commitment to the University and its students by serving on many committees, including the Anti-Racist Education Advisory Board; Health, Wellness, and Spiritual Committee, and the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Committee, among many others. She also volunteers at the medical reserve corps.

Professor Lopez is active with a number of global nursing and healthcare organizations. She was the keynote speaker at the 2023 Nursing World Conference in Boston, MA, and has presented at more than 10 conferences last year. She remains closely connected with the nurse education community with her research, article publications, and participation in industry events so that she is best positioned to align her students for success.

James O'Sullivan

*Adjunct Professor, Criminal Justice
Dyson College of Arts and Sciences*

Professor O'Sullivan is a 25-year veteran of the New York City Police Department. He is a detective assigned to investigate terrorism within New York City and the surrounding areas. Having joined Pace in 2010, he teaches courses such as Introduction to Criminal Justice, Homeland Security Strategies, and Terrorism and Society.

O'Sullivan is also a member of ASIS International, where he has obtained the internationally recognized Certified Protection Professional certification.

James O'Sullivan earned his bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Pace University in 1998 and his master's degree in criminal justice leadership from St. John's University in 2005.

Distinguished Professor

Nancy Reagin, PhD

*Professor, History and Women's and Gender Studies
Dyson College of Arts and Sciences*

Professor Reagin's career at Pace University spans over three decades, a period marked by great dedication to her students, outstanding scholarship, and exemplary service and leadership.

Since receiving her PhD in History from John Hopkins University and joining Pace University in 1990, Professor Reagin has made significant contributions to the academic community, shaping the trajectory of interdisciplinary studies and fostering a culture of innovation and collaboration. As a prominent faculty member in the Departments of History and Women's and Gender Studies, Professor Reagin has consistently demonstrated a profound commitment to academic excellence and institutional advancement.

Professor Reagin also served as Interim Associate Provost for Academic Affairs from October 2017–January 2019. During that time, she coordinated a substantial revision of the academic scheduling process, which resulted in significant improvements in classroom utilization and course capacity.

Professor Reagin's experience in pedagogy development and teaching has been recognized in teaching awards, including the Kenan Award for Teaching Excellence, the LGBTQ Educator of the Year Award, Pace's Undergraduate Research Initiative Award, and two grants for curriculum development and student mentoring programs. Recently, Professor Reagin was granted Pace's President's Award for Scholarly Leave through the US Fulbright Program, spending the Spring 2024 semester in Romania studying gender in fascist movements, teaching a history course and a gender studies course, and consulting on curriculum.

Presidential Lifetime Achievement Award

The Presidential Lifetime Achievement Award is presented to the full-time faculty member who has demonstrated exemplary dedication to teaching, service, scholarship, a long-standing commitment to excellence in their discipline, and has made an indelible impact on Pace University.

Barbara Farrell, EdD, CPA

Professor, Accounting

Lubin School of Business

Professor Farrell's career at Pace began as an adjunct in 1980 while she simultaneously worked in public accounting and later in the private sector. She left the industry to join Pace as a full-time faculty member in 1983. Given her experience in auditing information systems, she taught a range of accounting classes, including the audit of information systems.

Professor Farrell has taught many students in the over forty-four years of her career at Pace. These students went on to be successful business people and have regularly returned to Pace to give back to the University. The EY Tutoring Lab, the EY Scholarship program, and the Deloitte Video Conference rooms in New York City and Pleasantville are just a few ways her former students have given back to the University.

Since 1983, she served as the faculty advisor to the Robert S. Pace Accounting Society and has served and chaired many committees, including the Budget Committee, the Curriculum Committee, and the Audit and Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees.

Professor Farrell earned her BBA/MBA from Pace University in 1978, passed the CPA exam in May 1978, and joined Touche Ross, NYC, in June 1978. In 1993, she went on to earn her EdD from Columbia University.

Barbara C. Salken Outstanding Professor of the Year Award

Bridget J. Crawford

University Distinguished Professor

Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University

Professor Bridget J. Crawford joined the Haub Law faculty in 2003 and teaches Federal Income Taxation; Estate and Gift Taxation; Wills, Trusts and Estates; Tax Policy; Corporations and Partnerships; and Feminist Legal Theory. From 2008 through 2012, she served as the Law School's inaugural Associate Dean for Research and Faculty Development and served again in that role in 2014–2015. Prior to joining Haub Law, she practiced law at Milbank LLP.

Professor Crawford is a leading authority on taxation, wills and trusts, and feminist legal theory. She has published several books, book chapters, essays, and hundreds of law review articles in prestigious journals including the Washington University Law Review, The University of Chicago Legal Forum, Boston University Law Review, U.C. Davis Law Review, and Washington & Lee Law Review. She has also been published in specialty journals at Harvard, Yale, Columbia, the University of Pennsylvania, and the University of Michigan.

In 2021, Professor Crawford was named a Pace University Distinguished Professor, the highest honor the University can bestow upon a faculty member. She has received numerous awards for excellence in teaching at Haub Law, including Outstanding Professor of the Year 10 times.

Jared Hatcliffe

Adjunct Professor of Law

Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University

Professor Jared Hatcliffe teaches trial advocacy and motion practice at Haub Law. As Senior Trial Counsel for the New York City Law Department, Professor Hatcliffe has tried hundreds of cases involving alleged police misconduct and brings a wealth of experience in trial training to his students.

Professor Hatcliffe also teaches at Stetson Law School and previously taught at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice. He is a moderator and instructor for the NYCLD's Tort Division's in-house trial training, has taught programs at the National Institute for Trial Advocacy for the past several years, and has given lectures on Trial Advocacy at St. Hugh's College, Oxford University.

At Haub Law, Professor Hatcliffe is a dedicated, passionate, and compassion instructor who is always available to help students practice mock trials, ensure they understand the material, or to advise them on internship or job placements. He is co-creator of the Advocate's Advantage, a blog that gives advocacy students a forum to publish articles at Haub Law. For his contributions, he has been recognized at the Haub Law School with the 2022 Loretta Musial Service Award and the 2022 Outstanding Adjunct Professor of the Year Award.

Anton Pribysh

Adjunct Professor of Law

Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University

Professor Anton Pribysh oversees the Barbara C. Salken Criminal Justice Clinic at Haub Law. In this role, he supervises law students handling all aspects of the representation of indigent clients charged with misdemeanor offenses in the Bronx County Criminal Court.

Professor Pribysh is a public defender currently practicing in the Bronx with the Criminal Defense Practice of the Legal Aid Society. He has represented indigent clients in New York for over a decade and is experienced in every aspect of felony and misdemeanor trial practice, including jury trials, bench trials, and suppression hearings. Prior to his career as a public defender, he was an associate with Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld in Washington, DC. There, his practice was involved government investigations, litigation, and immigration law.

At Haub Law, Professor Pribysh's students regard him as incredibly smart, articulate, and patient. He has demonstrated a deep commitment to his students and the community at large, and—despite his busy schedule—gives of his time freely to ensure students understand complex legal concepts and have the guidance they need to succeed in both the classroom and courtroom.

2024 Trustee Award

The Trustee Award is presented to the graduating student or students whose positive contributions to University life and whose academic accomplishments exemplify the highest level of achievement attainable for an undergraduate.

New York City

During her time at Pace, Mikayla Meachem has distinguished herself as a gifted student with a strong commitment to advocacy and a steadfast dedication to justice.

In the classroom, Mikayla has demonstrated she is among Pace's brightest students. She's maintained an impressive 3.98 GPA while balancing two majors (Peace and Justice Studies and Women's and Gender Studies) alongside two minors (Criminal Justice and Non-Profit Studies). During her four years on campus, Mikayla has taken an active role in advocating for reproductive justice. Among other initiatives, she's presented on a campus-wide panel with faculty members on reproductive justice as a form of peacebuilding, as well as completing an extensive senior capstone titled Doula Activism: Navigating Social Justice in Harmful Systems. As her mentor Professor Emily Welty has noted, her enthusiasm and dedication has inspired many other students to follow her lead in advocacy within the Peace and Justice realm.

Mikayla has built an equally impressive resume outside the classroom, aligning her academic interests to create maximum impact. Last year, she was awarded a grant through the Office of the Provost's Undergraduate Student Faculty Research program and developed a project titled Centering Black Feminists in Post-Roe America. This impactful work was highlighted at the University's Creative Inquiry day—and most notably—the National Fall 2023 Peace and Justice Association Conference held in Ames, Iowa. On campus, Mikayla has gotten involved in many extracurricular pursuits, including serving as the Student Research Director of the Reproductive and Sexual Health Promotion at Pace, as well as the social media manager for The Pace Press. Mikayla has been a major voice at The Pace Press during her time as an undergraduate, having worked as a regular staff writer for the publication for the past four years.

Equally impressive has been Mikayla's contributions to reproductive justice through internships, volunteer work, and employment in the wider community. She has served as a development volunteer for the Birthworkers of Color Collective, where she has assisted with writing and editing grant proposals for doula training across the United States. Mikayla was also the development intern for SisterLove Inc., a nonprofit working on HIV, sexual and reproductive justice advocacy. Through her work with SisterLove, she was later hired as the organization's Digital Marketing and Communications Researcher.

For exemplifying the core values of Opportunitas and Pace University, today we honor Mikayla Meachem with the 2024 Trustee Award.

2024 Trustee Award

The Trustee Award is presented to the graduating student or students whose positive contributions to University life and whose academic accomplishments exemplify the highest level of achievement attainable for an undergraduate.

Pleasantville

During his time at Pace University, Anthony Moretto has become the epitome of what it means to be a Pace Setter—serving the Pace Community through exemplary leadership, service, and academic excellence.

A Pforzheimer Honors College student who has earned a bachelor's degree in finance, Anthony has balanced his exceptional academic pedigree with a steadfast commitment to leadership and service outside the classroom. As a model student at the Lubin School of Business, Anthony earned a 3.96 cumulative GPA while maintaining an active, visible role as a campus community leader.

One of the roles he's most known for is the General Manager of Pace Perk Mart, the ever-popular convenience store at the heart of the Pleasantville Campus. Having initially served as the assistant finance manager tasked with cash and dining dollar accounting, Moretto worked his way up to the GM position, through which he has led a group of roughly a dozen student employees in all facets of business, from day-to-day operations to building a great company culture. The $150,000-per-year business has given Moretto invaluable real-world experience while enabling him to serve the Pace Community.

He's also been instrumental to the increasing popularity of the Pace Pleasantville Investment Club; over the course of his time at Pace, Anthony has helped grow the club and strengthen its operations by instituting budgetary and management systems that have helped it become a major presence on campus. As President, Anthony has created numerous investment presentations, coordinated with major financial institutions such as J.P. Morgan and Morgan Stanley to organize events, and much more. He also served as the treasure of the Pace University Programming Board, managing a budget of $55,000 per semester.

In the educational realm, Anthony has consistently pushed the boundaries of academic excellence. In addition to his near-perfect GPA, he recently successfully presented his Honors Thesis using CRSP returns data and Bloomberg ESG data for the companies of the S&P 500, and ran complex regressions to determine whether companies with higher ESG disclosure scores provide higher returns.

Despite his many commitments, he's also always found time to nurture his love of the outdoors, serving as a volunteer at Pace's Environmental Center.

For his commitment to Pace and his extraordinary accomplishments in leadership and academic achievement, it's a pleasure to award Anthony Moretto the 2024 Trustee Award.

2024 Community Service Award

The Community Service Award is presented to the graduating student or students whose active contributions to the life of the University community and to the endeavors of our neighbors in the surrounding community most admirably embody an appreciation for the value of social responsibility.

New York City

During her time at Pace, Alicia Bennett's tireless commitment to social responsibility and community service has made a tangible difference in improving the world around her.

Alicia has taken part in many programs at Pace. Most notably, she's spent the last three years as an indispensable volunteer for the Parenting, Prison, and Pups (PPP) program—an evidence-based parenting curriculum that employs the use of therapy dogs to help incarcerated individuals develop and cultivate healthy bonds with their children.

Her unwavering commitment to service can be exemplified by the fact that as a New York City student, participation in this program required Alicia to wake up at 5:00 a.m. to take multiple trains to the Westchester County Department of Corrections several times per week. As her mentor, Dyson Professor Kimberly Collica-Cox, PhD, has observed that Alicia has truly excelled in what can be a challenging environment. Says Collica-Cox, "Working at the jail is difficult—rules, regulations, and policies can be daunting, but Ms. Bennett does this so pleasantly and gracefully. She truly gives herself to the clients we serve. She does all this while successfully juggling her academics and paid employment."

In addition to the Parenting, Prisons, and Pups program, Alicia served as a research assistant for myriad related initiatives, including Puppies on the Block, a puppy fostering program for incarcerated MICA (Mentally Ill Chemically Addicted) clients; Peace Within, a trauma-based yoga program for incarcerated men and women; and the Medical Assistance Treatment program, which works with incarcerated clients seeking treatment for opioid and alcohol disorders.

While at Pace, Alicia has excelled in the classroom and then some. For the past three years she's been a volunteer teaching assistant for the criminal justice department's Inside Out course, through which incarcerated students take a class with Pace students. Her role in this course has been instrumental, mentoring and assisting both sets of students. Her experiences have also enabled her to make impressive strides in research; she's already co-authored two peer-reviewed journal articles, and last fall presented alongside Professor Collica-Cox at the National Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences' (ACJS) Conference, one of only two national organizations for criminal justice research.

For exemplifying the core values of Opportunitas and Pace University, today we honor Alicia Bennett with the 2024 Community Service Award.

Pleasantville

Olivia Burnett has made a significant impact while at Pace. Earning a bachelor's degree in health science with a concentration in global health, Olivia has excelled admirably in the classroom, establishing herself as a high-achieving student at Pace. Yet, it is her commitment to service that has demonstrated that a well-rounded Pace education is not solely confined to the classroom.

Growing up in Schenectady, New York, Olivia witnessed first-hand how families and communities can struggle with food insecurity and related issues. She became heavily involved in community groups to address problems such as lack of food, the loneliness epidemic affecting older communities, and the cycle of violence that affects communities which have been historically disinvested in.

At Pace, she noticed that while students did not have to contend with many issues that she observed growing up, food insecurity remained an issue. She thus got deeply engaged with Pace Market and the Mobile Food Pantry, which provide access to a variety of foods, dry goods, and prepackaged meals for food insecure students. Her work involved sorting donations from local suppliers and non-profits, conducting extensive outreach and research to best ensure that anyone on campus who needed food had access, and creating and administering surveys to provide greater insights into food insecurity.

In short, she became an incredibly important advocate and resource on campus. Off campus, Olivia found time to volunteer at the Deacon Jack Seymore Food Pantry, which provides emergency food assistance in the Newburgh area through a grocery and weekend backpack program for children.

In the classroom, Olivia has been an exemplary student, where she has further strengthened her passion and understanding of global health, social equity, and patient access in healthcare. She's gone above and beyond the traditional classroom experience by conducting research on a number of topics, including examining the Effects of Discrimination on Black Women's Mental Health and their Future Plans and the Role of the Pholela Clinic in the Evolution of Community Based Health in South Africa—thus advancing important conversations in areas where she hopes to make a great impact.

In addition to her work with Pace Market and volunteer initiatives, Olivia boasts an impressive extracurricular resume; she's a member of the Gamma Sigma National Service Sorority, a student member of the Pace chapter of the NYS Public Health Association, and has taken on leadership roles as a member of the Pride Club.

For exemplifying the core values of Opportunitas and Pace University, today we honor Olivia Burnett with the 2024 Community Service Award.

2024 Elisabeth Haub School of Law Dean's Award

The Elisabeth Haub School of Law Dean's Award is presented to graduating full-time, part-time, and LLM students who best demonstrates academic excellence, leadership, and service to the law school and community.

Amanda Paige Dinkin, JD

Amanda Dinkin has been an exemplary student leader during her time at the Elisabeth Haub School of Law, demonstrating outstanding commitment to academic excellence, public service, community spirit, diversity, equity, and inclusion.

In her role as Vice President of Haub Law's Student Bar Association (SBA) during her 3L year and SBA Historian since her 1L year, Amanda has played a significant role in leading programs and initiatives that benefit the student body. She also served as President of the Law School's Jewish Law Students Association (JLSA) and, in this role, has made exemplary contributions to bring diverse members of the law school community together in unity during an especially challenging year. Recognized for her top-academic performance during her law school career, Amanda was selected as a Dean's Scholar and provided supplemental review sessions and mentorship to first-year students.

At Haub Law, Amanda participated in the Amelia A. Gould Representation in Mediation Clinic, providing representation to pro bono or pro se clients throughout the mediation process. She also served as a board member for Haub Law's Advocacy Program and was responsible for organizing several prestigious moot court and mock trial competitions at the Law School. Additionally, she competed in numerous moot court competitions regionally and nationally with stellar results, most recently ranking on the National Top 10 Advocates List.

During her time at Haub Law, Amanda served as Haub Law's American Bar Association Student Representative and, in this role, advocated for policy resolutions that impact law students nationwide. In the Law Student Division, Amanda was part of a group that voted to approve a resolution encouraging law firms to take a more holistic approach to hiring law students and look beyond grades and class rank. The American Bar Association House of Delegates adopted this resolution in its entirety.

For her demonstrated academic excellence, leadership, and service to the law school and the broader legal community, the Elisabeth Haub School of Law honors Amanda Dinkin with the 2024 Dean's Award.

Ellie Holleran Taranto, Flex JD

Ellie Taranto has contributed in meaningful ways as a student of the Elisabeth Haub School of Law, demonstrating outstanding commitment to academic excellence, leadership, integrity, and compassion for her fellow peers.

As a part-time Flex JD student, Ellie has balanced the pressing demands of full-time work as a paralegal and family responsibilities with her rigorous studies, remarkably achieving Dean's List status consistently throughout her four years at Haub Law. Recognized for this exceptional performance as an upper-level student, Ellie was selected as a Dean's Scholar for multiple doctrinal subjects and provided supplemental review sessions and mentorship to first-year students during her last three years of law school.

Ellie has been an active and engaged member of the student body participating in activities—both academic and extracurricular—to enrich her experience and the experience of her peers. In addition to completing an externship in corporate law, Ellie served as the Executive Promotions Editor for the Pace Law Review (PLR) and played a lead role in organizing the 2024 PLR Symposium.

Ellie was also Vice President of Haub Law's Working Student Association, helping to create a supportive community and beneficial opportunities for working students with unique needs such as hers. She is a respected leader and mentor among her fellow peers, serving as a member of the Honor Board and as a Peer Leader.

For her demonstrated academic excellence, leadership, and exemplary service to the law school, the Elisabeth Haub School of Law honors Ellie Taranto with the 2024 Dean's Award.

Isabella Mazzei, LLM

Isabella has made exceptional contributions as a graduate student at the Elisabeth Haub School of Law, demonstrating outstanding commitment to academic excellence, scholarship, and the pursuit of knowledge and service in the field of environmental law.

Isabella previously interned in several positions in Geneva, London, and Luxembourg before coming to Haub Law to pursue an LLM in Environmental Law. A native of Switzerland, and of Italian and Guatemalan decent, she is fluent in four languages. She holds a LLB from Queen Mary University in London and a master's in international business law from the University of Paris I: Panthéon-Sorbonne.

Isabella has been an active and engaged member of the law school student body, including as a member of the Environmental Law Society. In this capacity, she organized an informative panel for students focusing on outcomes from the COP 28 United National Climate Change Conference. She received second place in the 2023–2024 John R. Nolon Student Writing Competition for her Guided Research paper Arbitrators of Environmental Disputes: The Guardians of Natural Resources, which she presented at the 2024 Pace Environmental Law Review Symposium. Her article will be published in a forthcoming issue of Law Review.

In her spare time, Isabella has represented Haub Law at legal professional events in the region to further her knowledge and networks outside of law school. As a research volunteer working remotely in a virtual situation room during COP 28, she supported Legal Response International (LRI)—an NGO that assists developing countries during the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) negotiations—by responding to questions posed by developing countries.

For her outstanding academic excellence and contributions to the law school and legal community, the Elisabeth Haub School of Law honors Isabella Mazzei with the 2024 Dean's Award.

Academic Regalia

The history of academic dress dates back to the early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required all "Doctors, Licentiate, and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra to wear gowns. In England, during the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess in apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a question whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been worn for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars, while hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until replaced by the skull cap. In time, the skull cap was replaced by the mortarboard caps that are used widely today.

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume was formed to establish a suitable code of academic dress for the colleges and universities of the United States. The academic costume code recognizes three types of gowns, usually black. The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves. The gown for the master's degree has long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. A doctor's gown is faced with velvet, and has full, round, open sleeves bearing three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing and bars may either be black or the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The hood is made of a material identical to the gown and is lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree. When the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. For Pace University, the official colors found in the hood are blue and gold. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hood and indicates the subject to which the degree pertains.

For all academic purposes, the colors associated with the various subjects at Pace University are as follows:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Drab
Education	Light Blue
Fine Arts	Brown
Health Professions, Communication Sciences and Disorders	Silver
Health Professions, Health Science	Sage
Health Professions, Nursing	Apricot, Dark Blue
Health Professions, Nutrition and Dietetics	Kelly Green
Health Professions, Occupational Therapy	Slate Blue
Health Professions, Physician Assistant	Kelly Green
Journalism, Publishing	Crimson
Law	Purple
Psychology	Royal Blue
Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Science	Golden Yellow

Honor Societies

Pace University strives to foster intellectual growth, ethical maturity, civic responsibility, and professionalism in specific disciplines. Honor societies at Pace University play a vital role in advancing these goals. All national and international honor societies recognize academic excellence, promote scholarship, and enrich the educational experience. Members benefit from fellowship between students, faculty, and active professionals. Honor societies are keys that open doors to graduate school, career opportunities, and professional development. Membership in an honor society bestows honor, recognition, and lifetime distinction.

Students who are members in national and international honor societies are distinguished by wearing a colored cord around their neck. The colors and the honor society they represent are as follows:

Alpha Chi – National College Honor Scholarship Society
Cord Colors: Blue and Gold

Alpha Iota Delta – National Honor Society in the Decision Sciences (Lubin)

In Recognition of Pace University Student Veterans

Pace University remains committed to providing high-quality and affordable education to our veteran students who have served our nation with honor and distinction. We feel privileged to have you as members of the Pace Community, now and in the future. We know that your contributions have enriched our academic and student life beyond measure. We recognize your service and sacrifice and wish you the very best in your future personal and career endeavors.

Our graduating student veterans are distinguished by the cords that indicate the branch of service that they served within the United States Armed Forces.

Traditional Symbols

In addition to the regalia and finery customarily worn by University faculty and officers, formal academic ceremonies often include colorful signs and symbols representing the history and traditions of university life as well as specific aspects of the university being celebrated.

Flags

At Pace University ceremonies, in addition to the flags of the United States, the state of New York, and of the University, the president is represented by a swallow-tail flag of a blue field with a gold border bearing the University seal in pale blue, ringed by the inscription "Office of the President."

Each school/college within the University (College of Health Professions, Dyson College of Arts and Sciences, Elisabeth Haub School of Law, Lubin School of Business, Sands College of Performing Arts, School of Education, and Seidenberg School of Computer Science and Information Systems) is signified by a blue and gold banner with the school/college name and University logo.

Maces

The mace was developed as an armor-crushing weapon in the 13th century. Battle axes and maces were formidable chivalric tools of combat and warfare. They became symbols of authority, commanding attention and respect for the bearer, and were associated with those responsible for protecting the king's person. By the 16th century, maces were ornately designed and decorated with jewels and precious metals, often crafted with elegant architectural motifs.

At Pace University, the dean for students carries two maces. One is a replica of a Gothic battle mace with a head formed by five flanges, topped by a fluted conical finial. The rondel consists of a rusticated wood shaft attached to a metal cylindrical base, all of which is brass plated and inscribed with the words "Pace University." The mace was introduced in 1968 at the first commencement held on the Pleasantville Campus. The second mace was first used in 1927 at commencement exercises of Good Counsel College, which became the College of White Plains and which was consolidated in 1975 with Pace University. The brass and wood mace is topped by a sphere and a formée cross with a garnet at its center. The rondel, consisting of two brass sections separated by a ribbed wooden grip, has a sphere at its base, which bears the inscription "Pace University."

University marshals carry batons that represent the schools/colleges of the University. The University seal is mounted on each end of the baton, which is made of American walnut. The name of each person who has served as dean of the school/college is engraved on a brass plate affixed to the school/college baton.

Verge

The verge, an elongated mace or staff carried by the grand marshal, is made of Honduran rosewood. It is topped by a replica of a bronze-coated copper globe made in 1510, which is the earliest existing representation depicting the discoveries of Christopher Columbus in the Western Hemisphere. Beneath the globe, each Pace campus is represented by ribbons of the campus color: green for New York City, blue for Pleasantville, and red for White Plains. The upper section of the shaft is inlaid with rare woods representing the four reaches of the world: ebony, teak, olive, and oak.

The Centennial Medallion (retired)

The medallion was struck in commemoration of the University's Centennial in 2006. Both the Chair of the Board of Trustees and the University President wore the Centennial Medallion, which is made of bronze and layered with silver plate. The face of the medallion is the Pace University seal and the reverse bears the engraved image of the Centennial mark.

The Centennial Staff

The University President carries an ornate staff that was crafted in 2006 to commemorate the University's Centennial. The Centennial Medallion set in brass tops the staff, which is almost six feet in height and made of solid wood.

Welcome to the Pace Alumni Community

Congratulations, Class of 2024!

Today, you become official members of the Pace University Alumni Association joining our network of more than 165,000 talented alumni worldwide in which you share one of the most significant milestones in your life: Pace University. Regardless of the location or career path you choose to pursue, you and your classmates will remain connected to each other by your Pace experience. Our alumni community is a diverse, strong, successful network that we encourage you utilize as you seek opportunities and embark on an exciting new journey that the power of a Pace degree affords you.

As leaders of the Alumni Association, we encourage you to continue to share your Pace Pride and remain connected to your alma mater! Please visit us often and enjoy the many programs, benefits, and services that are available exclusively through the Alumni Association. Visit www.pace.edu/alumni for more information about participating in alumni events and programs, volunteer groups, staying connected, and last—but not least—mentorship opportunities. We want to continue to hear from you. Please contact us at 1 (877) 8-ALUMNI or pacealum@pace.edu with questions and suggestions.

On behalf of the entire alumni population, welcome to our family. Our community wishes you all the best in your future endeavors and looks forward to seeing you soon.

Sincerely,

Sabrina A. Griffin '92
